Director's Foreword

In YPS we encourage our young students to indulge in various extracurricular activities in their chosen fields of interest. This book is a treasure trove of the work produced by the Art and Photography Clubs of the school.

The school premises are a paradise for the keen photographer. Our iconic buildings and the natural environment provide excellent opportunities which have been so aptly captured by the young children.

Our budding artists have given expression to their talents and produced works of art which are truly remarkable. With encouragement and perseverance these gifted young boys and girls will surely go on to greater heights of excellence.

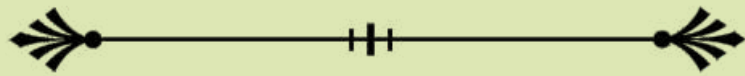

My compliments to the children who have contributed to putting this book together and to the faculty who have guided them so ably.

Maj. Gen. BS Grewal, VSM (Retd)
